When I first arrived in Pakistan, I was struck by the warmth and talent of the people of Pakistan. As I travel throughout this wonderful country, these early impressions continue to deepen. I have met inspiring Pakistani citizens in every province who are working to improve their communities. From business leaders to young entrepreneurs, from provincial government ministers to scholarship students, Pakistanis are ambitious, resourceful, innovative, and generous.

I look forward to strengthening the partnership forged by the peoples of Pakistan and America through USAID. I especially hope to hear more from the nation's young people. Their aspirations will determine Pakistan's future.

Jerry Bisson
Mission Director, USAID Pakistan

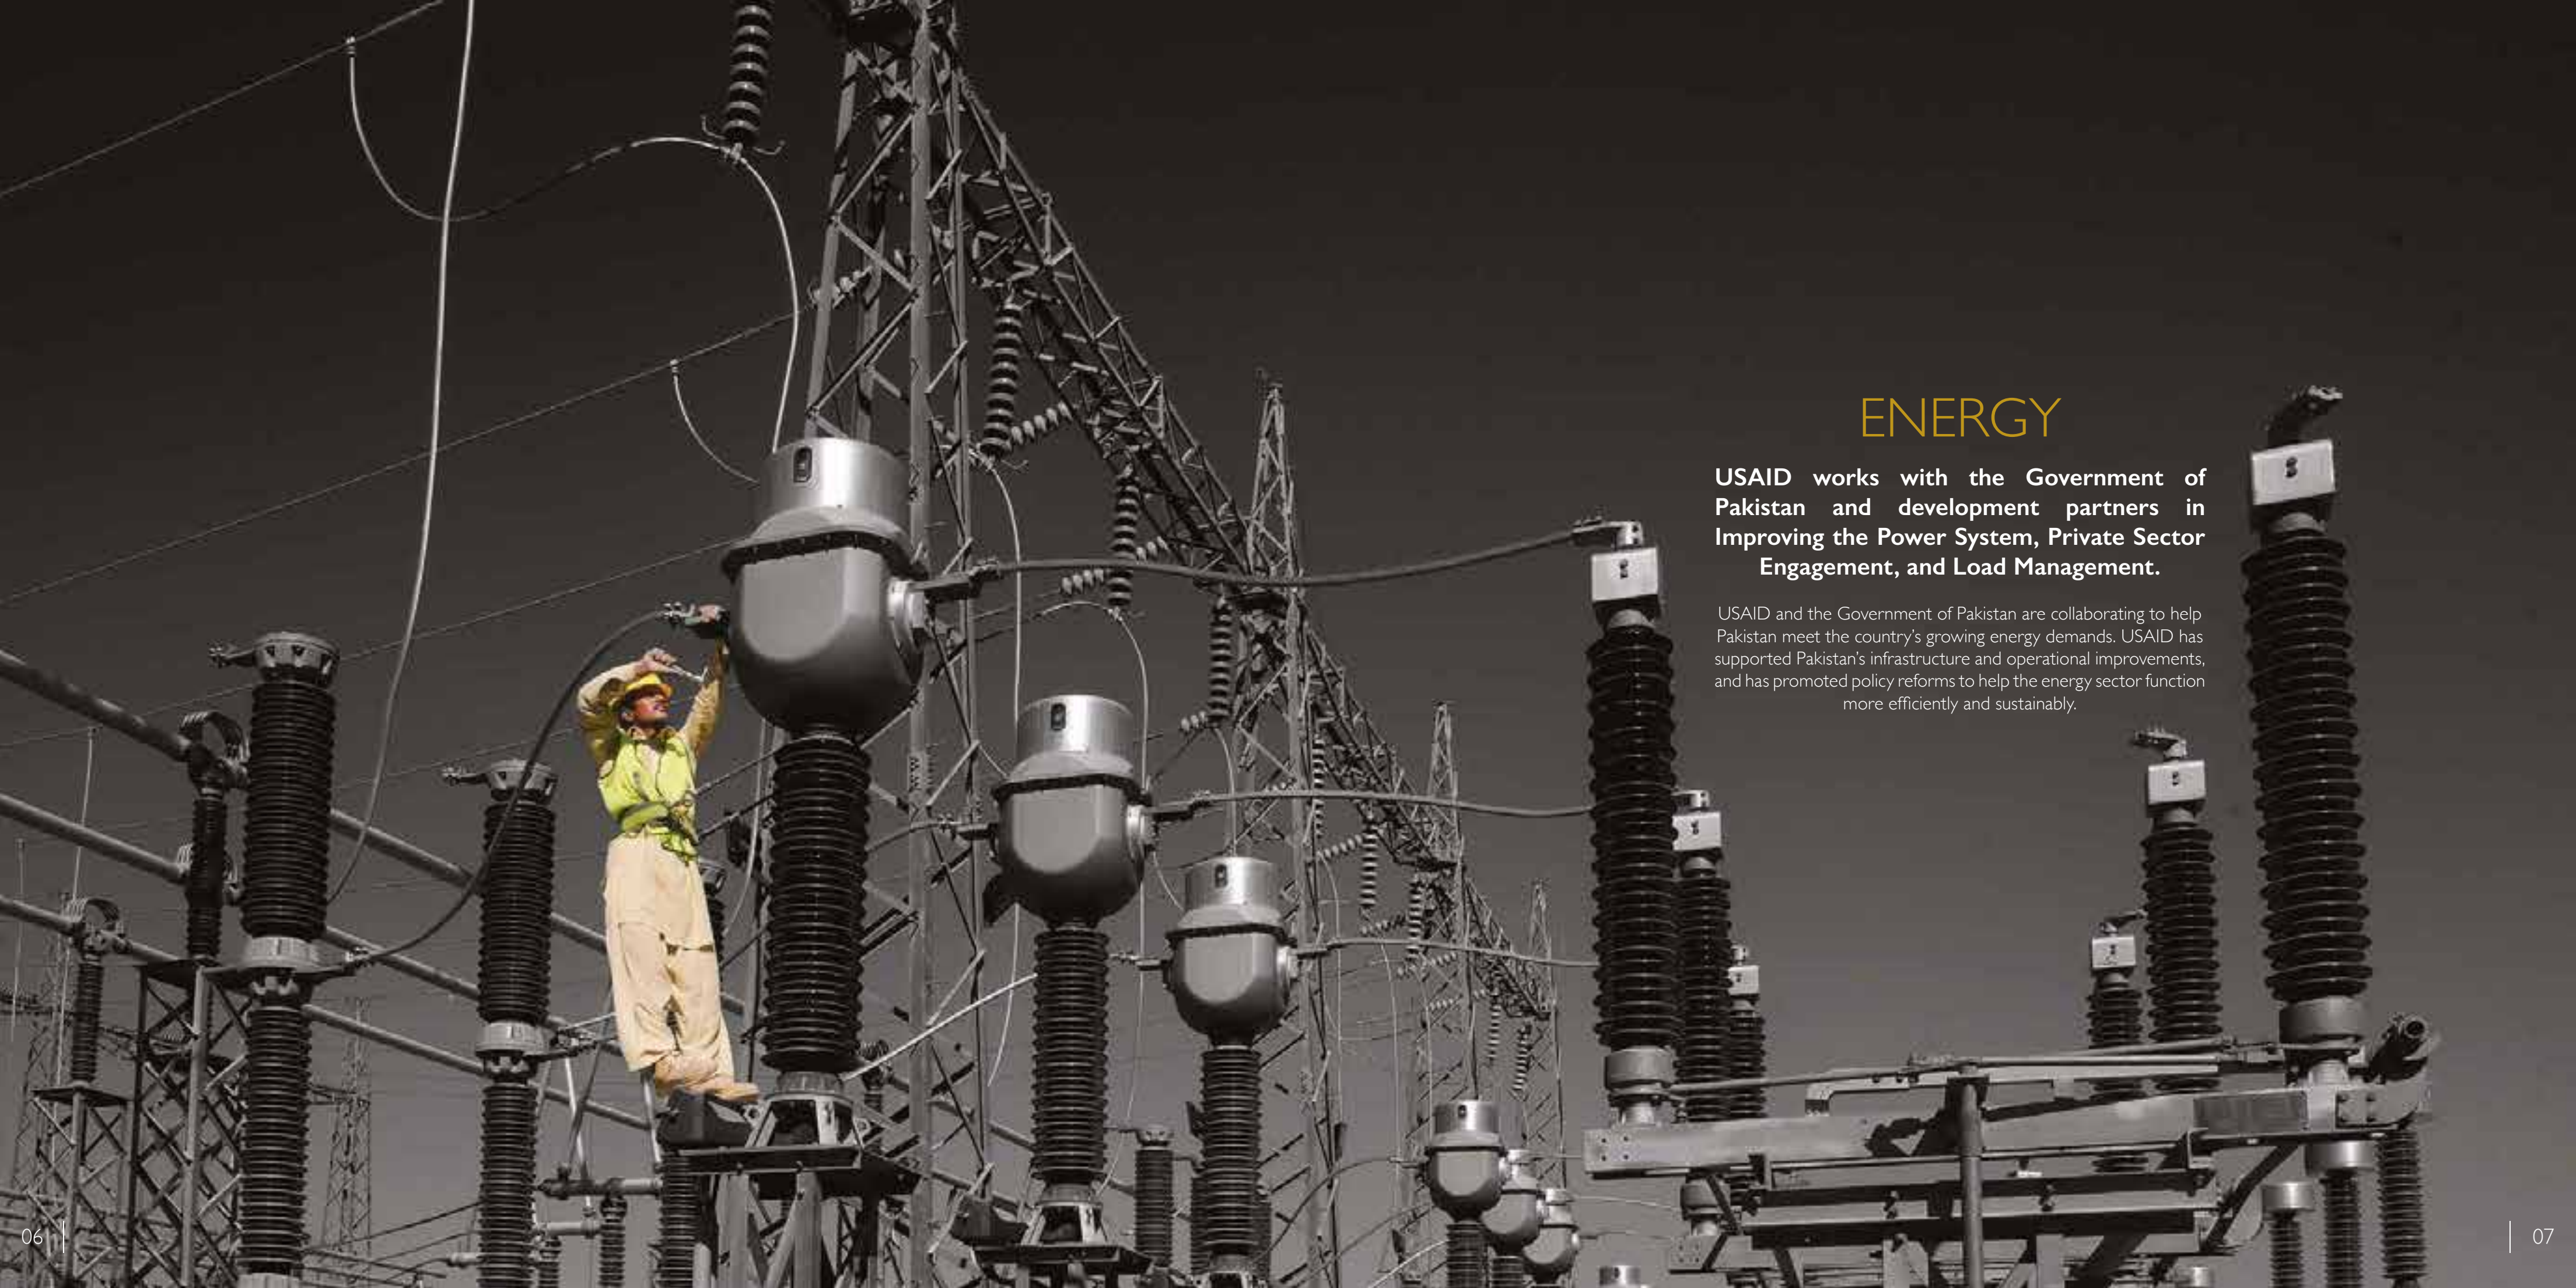

The United States Agency for International Development would like to acknowledge its implementing partners across Pakistan, whose pictorial support has gone into the compilation of this publication.

A STRONG PARTNERSHIP

The U.S. and Pakistan have worked together for over 70 years on issues that are important to both nations: energy, economic growth, resilience, education, and health.

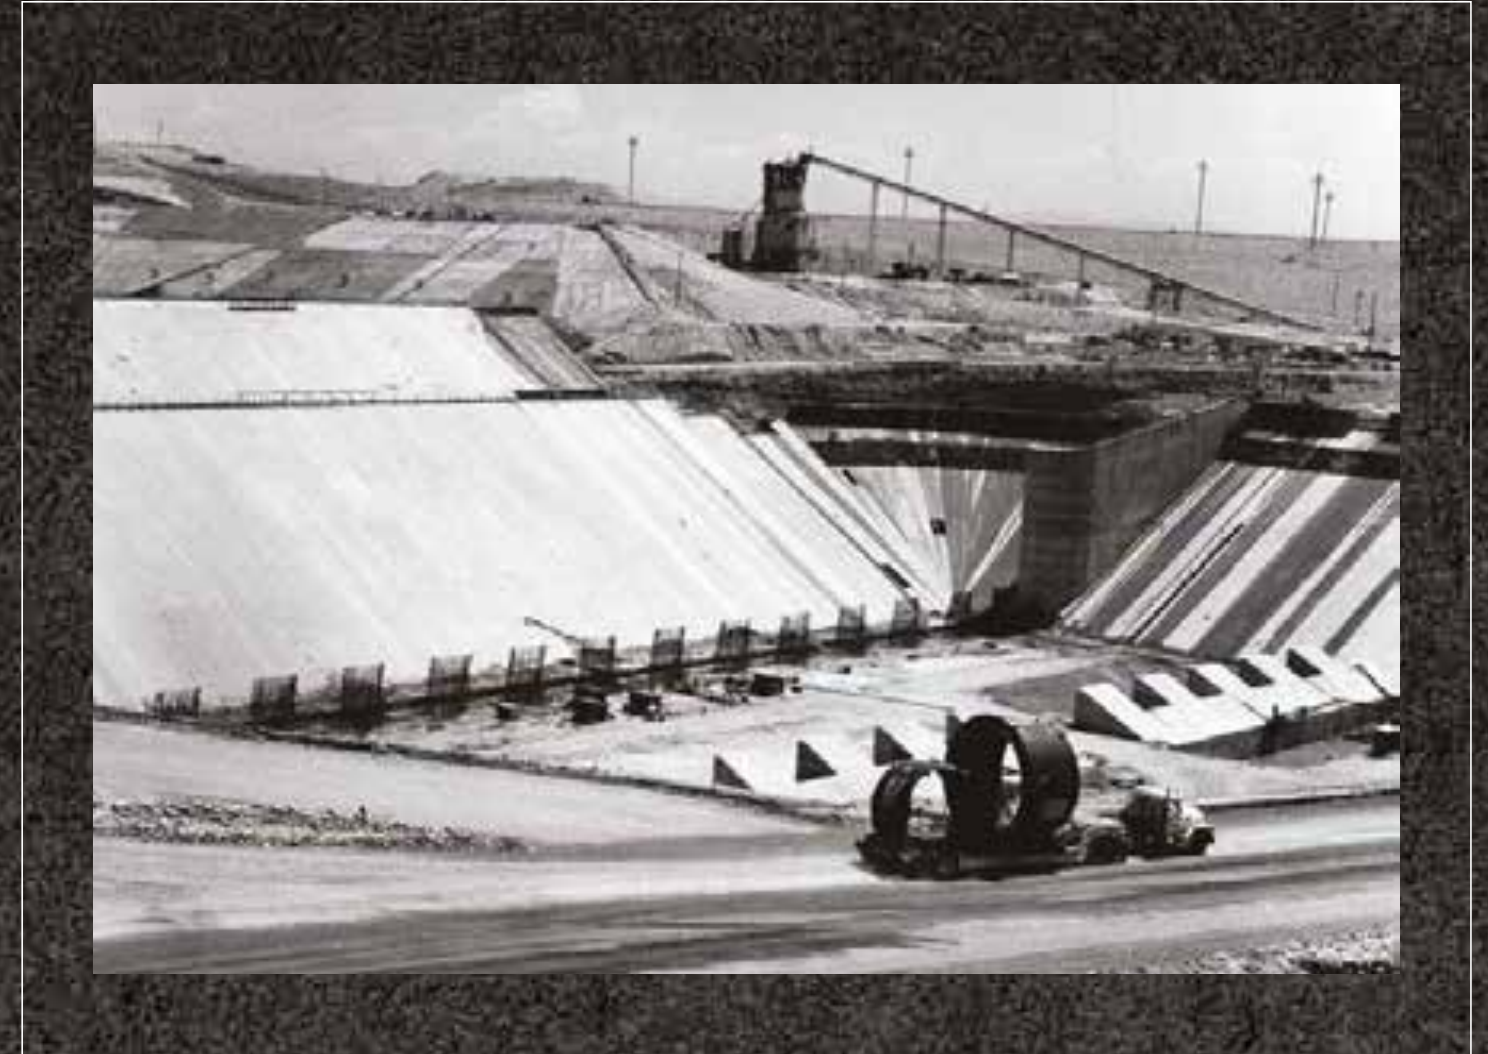

ENERGY

USAID works with the Government of Pakistan and development partners in Improving the Power System, Private Sector Engagement, and Load Management.

USAID and the Government of Pakistan are collaborating to help Pakistan meet the country's growing energy demands. USAID has supported Pakistan's infrastructure and operational improvements, and has promoted policy reforms to help the energy sector function more efficiently and sustainably.

ECONOMIC GROWTH AND AGRICULTURE

USAID works with the Government of Pakistan and development partners to Boost Private Sector Development, Enhance Agricultural Productivity, and Improve the Business-Enabling Environment.

USAID is stimulating private sector investment to increase sales, income, and jobs; promoting a vibrant and profitable agricultural sector through market linkages, technology, and irrigation; fostering a conducive business-enabling environment for sustainable economic development; and facilitating trade across borders to increase regional connectivity.

RESILIENCE

USAID works with the Government of Pakistan and development partners in Increasing Community Engagement, Addressing Gender-based Violence, Connecting Communities to Markets, and Supporting the Voluntary Return of Displaced Families.

People thrive in stable, democratic societies. In Pakistan, USAID has supported the return and recovery of internally displaced persons in Khyber Pakhtunkhwa (KP) province. USAID continues to help rebuild communities ravaged by conflict and natural disasters, support civil society organizations that seek to actively participate in the democratic process, and assist the Government of Pakistan to deliver reliable municipal services to its citizens.

EDUCATION

USAID works with the Government of Pakistan and development partners to Increase Access to and Improve the Quality of Basic and Higher Education.

Individuals make healthier, more economically advantageous life choices and are more likely to engage in their communities when they have access to quality education. The United States and Pakistan have partnered to provide quality basic education and market-based workforce development training and research geared towards meeting the needs of the 21st century.

HEALTH

USAID works with the Government of Pakistan and development partners in Maternal and Child Health and Health Systems Strengthening.

In Pakistan, USAID is committed to saving the lives of women and children, strengthening families and communities, and developing a healthier workforce. USAID is improving the quality of health services, expanding community-based outreach and prevention, and applying evidence-based interventions. These approaches align with USAID's goal to end preventable child and maternal deaths, the Government of Pakistan's Vision 2025, and the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals.

HUMANITARIAN ASSISTANCE

Displacement continues in Pakistan's Khyber Pakhtunkhwa Province, where thousands of households—many of whom lack sufficient access to food, shelter, and critical services—remain internally displaced.

With more than $62 million in FY 2017 funding, the U.S. government continues to respond to ongoing food, shelter, health, protection and water, sanitation, and hygiene needs generated by the complex emergency in Pakistan.
