

USAID
FROM THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

IMPROVING THE QUALITY OF LIFE OF PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

BACKGROUND

Over last 30 years, the U.S. Government has contributed more than $126 million in assistance to persons with disabilities (PWDs) in Vietnam. Since 1989, with the establishment of the U.S. Agency for International Development's (USAID) Leahy War Victims Fund (LWVF), USAID has worked to increase access to a wide variety of programs benefiting people with disabilities in conflict-affected countries. In Vietnam, U.S. assistance has helped to improve the quality of life of PWDs by addressing medical and social needs, improving disability policies, and reducing physical and social barriers.

USAID/Vietnam is currently focused on providing services for persons with severe disabilities in areas heavily sprayed with Agent Orange. This project is part of the U.S. Government's efforts to address legacies from U.S.-Vietnam War. This work contributes to both countries' efforts to overcome the past, build trust, and strengthen bilateral relations. It enables continued security cooperation between the U.S. and Vietnam and a strong relationship for the achievement of USAID's other development objectives.

IMPACT

USAID disability projects have evolved over time, from providing direct humanitarian assistance such as prosthetic and orthopedic devices, to building a system that provides essential services to persons with disabilities, supporting disability policies and regulations, and strengthening advocacy for the rights and inclusion of persons with disabilities. These projects have contributed to the improvement of the quality of life of PWDs in Vietnam, with impact such as: 1) Direct support to over 30,000 PWDs in Vietnam; 2) Improved rehabilitation and social services for PWDs; 3) Improved disability policy and advocacy; and 4) Improved partners' capacity in management, implementation, and activity support to persons with disabilities.

PROJECTS

USAID has a robust portfolio of activities working across eight provinces heavily sprayed with Agent Orange (Quang Tri, Thua Thien Hue, Quang Nam, Binh Dinh, Dong Nai, Binh Phuoc, Tay Ninh, and Kon Tum), implemented by 10 local and international partners, covering a variety of services such as early childhood intervention, direct hospital-based and home-based interventions, and establishment of national guidelines and education programs. The newest $65 million project (2020-2024) falls under a Memorandum of Intent signed in April 2019 between USAID and the Office of the Steering Board for the National Steering Committee on Overcoming the Post-war unexploded ordnances and toxic chemicals consequences in Vietnam (Office 701), and witnessed by nine U.S. Senators, as well as a Limited Scope Grant Agreement signed with the National Action Center for Toxic Chemicals and Environment Treatments (NACCET) in December 2019. This opens a new chapter of cooperative partnership between USAID/Vietnam and the Vietnam Ministry of National Defense.
